

European Language day September 26th

<http://www.ecml.at/edl/>

Did you know that all European States have a whole different set of education programmes at school? From Albania to Uzbekistan, satisfy your curiosity and learn more about your peers over the class desks.

<http://www.euroeducation.net/>

Gateway to information on languages in the EU. Arranged by subject - linguistic diversity, language learning, language teaching, translation, interpretation and language technology

<http://europa.eu/languages/>

An opportunity for you to test your proficiency level in various foreign languages. This site also provides language learning resources, reference materials, cultural information, games and quizzes.

<http://www.transparent.com/tlquiz/proftest/index.htm>

Why learn languages? Explore the benefits of learning a foreign language in today's world - and check out what the EU is doing to encourage language teaching and learning.

http://ec.europa.eu/education/policies/lang/learn/index_en.html

I would like to study/work/have an experience in another country, where can I find more information?

<http://www.enic-naric.net/>

Going abroad and can't speak a word of the language? The BBC offers excellent free online courses for beginners.

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/languages/index.shtml>

Free online resource for the TOEFL, GMAT, and GRE tests with practice questions, vocabulary lists, test information, and classes to help you improve your score.

<http://www.testmagic.com>

Her name is.....Alice

Easy-to-use database containing information on non-formal education in Europe. Addresses of organisations and institutions.

<http://www.esnal.net/alice.html>

European Youth Forum

Information about the recognition of non-formal education in Europe. Studies and reports that show how youth organisations are contributing to non-formal education.

http://www.youthforum.org/en/our_work/Policy_areas/education.htm

Ploteus: Portal on Learning Opportunities Throughout the European Space

A database of non-formal learning opportunities in European countries. Search for courses by country in the further education and training section.

<http://ec.europa.eu/ploteus/portal/>

Training kits

Training materials for European youth work on various subjects. You can download free training kits in PDF format. The site also has a trainer's forum and an online magazine for trainers and leaders of youth organisations.

http://www.youth-partnership.net/youth-partnership/publications/T-kits/T_ki

European Youth Centres

Information on Council of Europe training courses for young people and youth workers. Downloadable PDF and Word application forms.

http://eycb.coe.int/EYCBwwwroot/HRE/index.asp?url=training_trainers_in_HRE_

TRANSfine

The Transfine project is about transfers between formal, informal and non-formal education, involving various European partners.

<http://www.transfine.net>

Activities of the European Union: employment

This is the starting point for information about employment at a European level. You will find information on different aspects: laws and treaties, policies, statistics, fact sheets, publications, etc.

http://europa.eu/pol/socio/index_en.htm

Embassy World

Absolutely all of the world's embassies and consulates in a searchable database!

<http://www.embassyworld.com>

Employment and social affairs

Overview of the European Commission's work on employment policy. Read here the European employment strategy, analysis, information on issues related to labour laws, health and safety at work, free movement of workers, work organisations, social security, reports and pilot projects.

http://ec.europa.eu/employment_social/index_en.html

Careers in Europe

Career Advice gives you guidance and information on working in Europe, finding positions, language skills needed and much more. For each country you can also find job-hunting tips, CV advice, details of graduate recruiters and useful links for your destination country.

<http://www.europe.hobsons.com>

Employment & the European Social Fund

This fund provides the means to achieve the objectives of the European Employment Strategy: to protect and promote employment, and to combat unemployment, discrimination and social exclusion. Have a look at what it has been achieved in your country!

http://ec.europa.eu/employment_social/esf/

European Youth Prize

Programme title: Award for "Young active citizens"

Programme Initiative of: Council of Europe

You're young, active, and a European citizen. On top of that, you're involved in a project that promotes the participation of young people in society. Maybe it's about time your efforts were recognised. The Council of Europe's 'Young Active Citizens' Award could be the answer. It may not be the Oscars but this competition rewards outstanding projects carried out by young people for young people. Entry is open to any organisation concerned with youth projects throughout the 46 states of the European Cultural Convention.

Next Step: Read the rules of entry and keep an eye on future competitions.

One Step Beyond:

http://www.coe.int/T/E/Cultural_Cooperation/Youth/2._Priorities/award.asp

GO FOR IT!!!

